Why Ninety One

Ninety One is a global investment manager with emerging market roots and a commitment to developing specialist investment teams organically. Our heritage and approach let us bring a different perspective to active and sustainable investing. As active and responsible investors, we manage our clients' money to meet their long-term financial objectives.

Our investment expertise spans the equity, fixed income, multi-asset and alternative asset classes. Our specialist investment teams invest actively across global, emerging and frontier markets.

Established in South Africa in 1991, as Investec Asset Management, we started offering domestic investments in an emerging market. In 2020, almost three decades of organic growth later, we demerged from Investec Group and became Ninety One.

The firm seeks to create profitable partnerships between clients, shareholders and employees. Our aim is to exceed our clients' and service expectations and to manage their money to the highest possible standard.

General risks: The value of investments, and any income generated from them, can fall as well as rise. Costs and charges will reduce the current and future value of investments. Past performance does not predict future returns. Investment objectives may not necessarily be achieved; losses may be made. Target returns are hypothetical returns and do not represent actual performance. Actual returns may differ significantly. Environmental, social or governance related risk events or factors, if they occur, could cause a negative impact on the value of investments.

Specific Risks: Currency Exchange: Changes in the relative values of different currencies may adversely affect the value of investments and any related income. Default: There is a risk that the issuers of fixed income investments (e.g. bonds) may not be able to meet interest payments nor repay the money they have borrowed. The worse the credit quality of the issuer, the greater the risk of default and therefore investment loss. Derivatives: The use of derivatives may increase overall risk by magnifying the effect of both gains and losses leading to large changes in value and potentially large financial loss. A counterparty to a derivative transaction may fail to meet its obligations which may also lead to a financial loss. Emerging Market: These markets carry a higher risk of financial loss than more developed markets as they may have less developed legal, political, economic or other systems. Liquidity: There may be insufficient buyers or sellers of particular investments giving rise to delays in trading and being able to make settlements, and/or large fluctuations in value. This may lead to larger financial losses than expected. Sustainable Strategies: Sustainable, impact or other sustainability-focused portfolios consider specific factors related to their strategies in assessing and selecting investments. As a result, they will exclude certain industries and companies that do not meet their criteria. This may result in their portfolios being substantially different from broader benchmarks or investment universes, which could in turn result in relative investment performance deviating significantly from the performance of the broader market. Credit Risk: Where the value of an investment depends on a party (which could be a company, government or other institution) fulfilling an obligation to pay, there exists a risk that the obligation will not be satisfied. This risk is greater the weaker the financial strength of the party. The Net Asset Value the portfolio could be affected by any actual or feared breach of the party's obligations, while the income of the portfolio would be affected only by an actual failure to pay, which is known as a default.
